NEW ANU ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN

The ANU has recently released a new suite of ads as part of a university-wide branding campaign. The following two pages contains eight press ads that you may have already seen or may see over the next few months.

She'll begin her education at ANU as a geeky teenager. And graduate as a brilliant, highly disciplined geeky adult.

Students who choose ANU are intelligent high achievers with the drive to go far. We help them unlock their potential to become leaders in their field. But there are some things we wouldn't want to change.

The Australian National University is ranked as Australia's top university and among the world's best.*

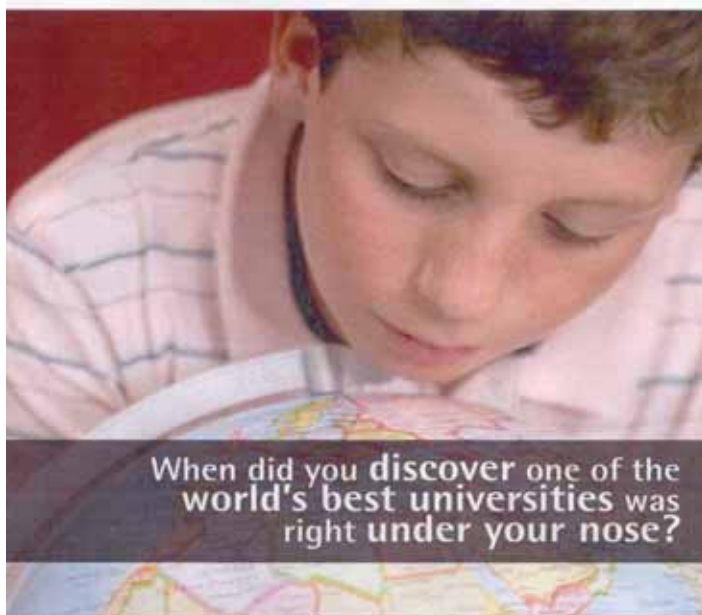

ANU wants students who are independent, driven, willing to test their limits and able to add to the pool of brilliant minds who have built the reputation of our university. But we also want them to enjoy themselves.

We're renowned as a research powerhouse and a home to outstanding educators, which is why we've been rated A1 for our teaching quality.

Don't bury talent at a degree factory. Give them space to think, learn and have fun. Let them find their way at ANU.
