and Relations Team (IRRT)

Discover why so many International Students choose the University of Liverpool

Worldwide Reputation for Excellence

- In the top 200 universities in the world; 137th out of 4300 (Times Higher Education Supplement's World University Rankings).
- One of the highest climbers in the Sunday Times Good University Guide 2009, rising from 34th to 28th place.
- Associated with 8 Nobel Prize winners.
- Global reach through pioneering partnerships with Laureate Online Education, Liverpool International College, XJTLU and HELP University College Malaysia.

Excellence in Teaching and Learning

- Well-known for excellent teaching and research that relates to the professions e.g. medicine, dentistry, business, law and engineering.
- Recognised for innovative teaching methods including online education.
- Liverpool is the pioneer of problem-based learning for medical education and has developed "The Liverpool Engineer" - which will ensure its Engineering graduates are amongst the best prepared in the world for life after university.

Internationally Recognised Research

- In the latest Research Assessment Exercise 2008 (RAE), 53% of research staff ranked in the highest categories of 4* (world-leading) and 3* (internationally excellent).
- 15th largest research university in the UK (The Financial Times).
- In the top ten UK universities for annual research income (The Financial Times).

University Campus in a World-famous City

- As European Capital of Culture 2008, Liverpool has enjoyed unparalleled cultural development and financial investment.
- UNESCO World Heritage waterfront.
- Home of the Beatles and Liverpool Football Club.

A Welcoming Environment

- High levels of student satisfaction. In the 2009 International Student Barometer, 89% of current international students said Liverpool's "a good place to be" and 89% said they'd made friends from other countries.
- Safety in the city compares well against other urban areas such as Manchester and London.
- Crime levels for the end of 2007 were down 10% year on year and in 2008 they were reduced by a further 26.5%.

Affordable Living

- Wide range of scholarships for international students and competitive tuition fees.
- Liverpool's low cost of living makes it the second most cost effective student cities in the UK (NatWest Student Living Index 2009).
- Liverpool is top out of the 16 Russell Group universities - the 'Ivy League' of UK higher education - for satisfaction with the cost of living and accommodation costs.

Great Career Prospects

- Our award winning Careers and Employability Service helps us to maintain one of the lowest unemployment ratings in the North West.
- Liverpool has the highest average starting salaries in the North West of England (Sunday Times University Guide 2008).
- Dedicated Careers Adviser for International students.

Why not join them?

Welcome

Almost 15,000 students, hundreds of courses, so many possibilities. . . Each year, the University of Liverpool welcomes over 4,000 new students on its undergraduate programmes. Why not join them?

Choosing what and where to study is a big decision and it's important that you have all the information you need to make the best decision for you. So, this guide has been designed to help you answer some of the questions that you will have when making your decision.

In addition to this guide, there are other sources of information that you might find useful.

- Our Undergraduate Prospectus 2010. The prospectus gives an overview of all our degree programmes, as well as information about the University's excellent facilities for students. To order your copy of the prospectus register with us online at www.liv.ac.uk/study/register or contact one of our advisors on T: +44 (0)151 794 6730.

- Our Undergraduate Subject Brochures – these provide detailed information on all the degree programmes offered by a specific department so you can see what you will study in each year of the degree. The Brochures can be viewed online at www.liv.ac.uk/study/undergraduate/courses/ or contact our International Recruitment and Relations Team on T: +44 (0)151 794 6730 or E: irro@liv.ac.uk
- Our web pages, www.liv.ac.uk/international, contain lots of information that you'll find useful. You can also watch and hear other international students' experiences of the city of Liverpool and the University on our video gallery - www.liv.ac.uk/study/international/flash-video/

Meet the Team

Here at the University of Liverpool, our International Recruitment and Relations Team (IRRT) is dedicated to looking after you on your journey from choosing which institution to study at, right up to your arrival here in Liverpool. Our team is made up of University of Liverpool staff as well as Student Ambassadors (pictured below).

IRRT will guide you through the admissions process and entry requirements; informing you of opportunities for scholarships and sending you relevant information at the right time to help you prepare for your studies in Liverpool. Our Student Ambassadors provide helpful and honest advice and information that will help you make important decisions about your future studies.

Whether you want advice on what to pack in your suitcase or what the British weather is like, our Student Ambassadors are always happy to answer your questions.

You can meet the team at IRRT's website – www.liv.ac.uk/international. The website also aims to provide answers to all the questions you might have as an international applicant.

We look forward to welcoming you.

International Community

Once you arrive in Liverpool, we're sure you'll feel at home quickly in this friendly and welcoming city.

Liverpool is a port city so many communities from around the world have established themselves here, making it a truly cosmopolitan city.

- Liverpool was home to the first Mosque in the UK.
- Liverpool has an active Islamic Society who host Friday prayers in the Guild of Students and break fast together during Ramadan.
- Halal meat is widely available throughout the city.
- Liverpool has the oldest China Town in Europe.
- The Chinese New Year is celebrated in style each year and features street entertainers, music and dance.

- Many international supermarkets in the city sell international ingredients.
- Many restaurants, cafes and shops cater for vegetarians.
- Africa Oye! – the biggest live free African music festival in Britain- is hosted in Liverpool each year.
- The Malay Speaking Circle unites Malay speakers from from Malaysia, Indonesia, Brunei and Thailand each month.

Have a look at our short film 'Life in Liverpool' at www.liv.ac.uk/study/international/flash-video/ to see what others have to say about life as a University of Liverpool student. Or, you can order a copy of our free introductory DVD at E: irro@liv.ac.uk

The City of Liverpool

As a city, Liverpool is diverse, energetic and exciting.

- Built on an illustrious heritage that stretches back 800 years, Liverpool has a global reputation for sport, music, architecture and a wealth of culture for students to explore.
- Home to two of Europe's most famous football teams - Liverpool and Everton FC - the city's achievements in sport are internationally recognised.
- Today the city is enjoying a resurgence, driven by its designation as European Capital of Culture in 2008.
- Now one of the UK's top five retail destinations, Liverpool is where you can certainly shop until you drop at the new Liverpool One complex – a huge 1.65 million sq ft of shopping and leisure facilities, which includes 160 shops, more than 20 bars and restaurants, a fantastic 14 screen cinema and a 5 acre park. Shops include: Gap, Henri Lloyd, Karen Millen, L'Occitane, Mango, Onitsuka Tiger, Nike, Swarovski, Sony as well as the Liverpool Football Club store.
- When eating out, visitors can choose from a host of restaurants, cafes and bars that cater for all tastes and budgets, including halal, Middle Eastern, Chinese, Indian, Thai and European.
- Home to many famous musicians, Liverpool's music scene could not be more eclectic. Its nightlife is also vibrant and rivals that of any other UK city.
- With more museums, theatres, galleries and listed buildings than in any other region outside London, Liverpool's cultural wealth has long been a major attraction.
- With a waterfront with the same World Heritage Site status as The Pyramids at Giza and the Taj Mahal, Liverpool is truly the jewel in the crown of England's North West.

Ave Puskarjova, Estonia
Combined Honours Arts

“I loved the flexibility of my degree programme which allowed me to combine different subjects and the staff in my department are so helpful. I also like the fact that Liverpool is a multicultural and student friendly city with lots of places to visit.”

Entry Requirements

Do I have the right qualifications?

Here at the University of Liverpool, we recognise a wide range of international qualifications. You will notice that our Undergraduate Prospectus lists the typical entry requirements for programmes in terms of A Levels. These are the qualifications that UK students usually take to enter university. Don't worry if you don't have A Levels. Our website www.liv.ac.uk/international/countries/ will give a better understanding of the international qualifications that are accepted as alternatives to A Levels.

If your country is not listed and you can't find your qualification, please contact the enquiries team at E: irro@liv.ac.uk

What if my qualifications are not acceptable?

Many countries have a different system to that of the UK. This means that some students may require further preparation before they start their undergraduate programme.

If you are in this position you may be eligible for the Foundation Certificate course at Liverpool International College, located on our campus.

Liverpool International College

The Foundation Certificate programme at Liverpool International College is designed to prepare you for entry to an undergraduate degree in a number of subject areas.

There are two pathways for the Certificate:

- Business, Law and Social Sciences or
- Science and Engineering

On successful completion of the programme, you are guaranteed progression to the first year of an appropriate degree programme at the University of Liverpool. Please see the Liverpool International College website for details: www.livic.org.uk

English Language Requirements

To ensure that all students have the necessary communication skills to successfully complete an undergraduate degree, every student (UK or international) requires a suitable English language qualification for entry.

The level of English required is not the same for every programme - Medicine and Law, for example, require a higher level of English than Engineering.

The table opposite shows the main English qualifications we accept and the scores required for different types of programmes. If your qualification is not in this table it may still be acceptable – check the full list on our website at: www.liv.ac.uk/international/countries/

How to Apply

All students applying for an undergraduate programme do so through UCAS (the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service).

This is a central online application system allowing students to apply for up to five courses in the UK via one application. Students would normally apply for a specific programme at five different universities, but you can apply for more than one programme at a specific university. For example, you could apply for Politics at Liverpool as well as International Politics and Policy at Liverpool.

Help with your Application

For more information about completing a UCAS application, please see our Undergraduate Prospectus page 314 or if you need further assistance you can use the following sources:

- The UCAS website at www.ucas.com
- Our representatives in your country – please see page 24 for a full list.
- A British Council office in your country – www.britishcouncil.org
- Your school counsellor.

Tuition Fees

All students are charged a fee to study at university in the UK.

British and EU students pay a 'home' student fee with the UK Government also providing funding to the University. International students pay an 'overseas' fee which will be higher than the home fee as the University does not receive funding from Government for international students.

If you are not sure whether you are a 'home' or 'international' student, perhaps because you hold a British passport but have lived abroad, please refer to advice pages on the UK Council for International Student Affairs (UKCISA) website at: www.ukcosa.org.uk/student/fees_student_support.php

Undergraduate Tuition Fees for 2010-11

The fees listed below against each subject area represent the proposed fee bands for the academic year 2010-11 at the time of going to press. Please check website www.liv.ac.uk/international/money-and-scholarships/tuition-fees.htm for confirmation of fee levels.

Note that our Regional Awards, offering a fee reduction of £1,000, are available for most new international students. See section on Scholarships and Awards on the next page for more information.

Fixed Fee Guarantee

The University offers a fixed fee guarantee for all full time undergraduate students from outside the European Union (EU) (except those studying Medicine or Dentistry). This means that your tuition fees will not increase during your studies enabling you to plan your finances effectively. Please check our website for more information: www.liv.ac.uk/study/international/money-and-scholarships/

Scholarships and Awards

The University of Liverpool offers a range of scholarships and awards for international students. Our new Regional Awards are available to all non-clinical undergraduate students and offer a tuition fee reduction of £1,000. Some scholarships such as the Vice-Chancellor's and International Baccalaureate (IB) Scholarships are merit-based and unlimited. This means that all students that meet the criteria are guaranteed the scholarship and this will be confirmed in offer letters.

Other awards and scholarships have very specific eligibility criteria for students from certain countries or those applying for particular programmes. The table below outlines the details of all the scholarships available for undergraduate students at the time of going to print. Please check the scholarship pages on our website for up-to-date details at: www.liv.ac.uk/study/international/money-and-scholarships/

Living Costs

Living Costs Per Year

We estimate that you will need between £5,500 - £7,000 per year for your daily living expenses including accommodation, food and local travel. Of course this will vary according to your lifestyle.

Example of Approximate Weekly Costs

As an undergraduate medical student Koay Yee Mei from Brunei spent around £6,000 in her first year. She was in Liverpool for around 38 weeks and, on a weekly basis, she would spend around £111 on hall fees which covered 2 meals a day; around £11 on a weekly bus pass; £5-10 on study costs (photocopying, printing etc); £5 cell phone charges; £4 on laundry and between £10 and £30 on other food and entertainment costs (depending on how many social activities she got involved in). Mei also spent £92 on an annual sports centre membership and bought a number of key text books for £100 at the beginning of the year.

LIVERPOOL IS THE SECOND MOST COST EFFECTIVE STUDENT CITY IN THE UK, ACCORDING TO THE NATWEST STUDENT LIVING INDEX 2009.

Please be aware that these costs are approximate and vary depending on a student's lifestyle and choice of accommodation.

“The overall cost of living is fairly reasonable compared to other similar big cities. I only spent about £5,500 per year, main items are food, clothing and accommodation.”

Careers and Employability

Careers and Employability Service for International Students

The University has a dedicated careers service which provides assistance to all students as well as specialised resources and workshops for international students. The Careers and Employability Service provides advice and guidance on:

- Career options
- Work experience
- Graduate opportunities
- Specialised help with job search techniques such as CVs, applications and interviews

The Careers and Employability Service won several major awards at the 2009 UK Conference of the Association of Graduate Careers Advisory Services (AGCAS), including the AGCAS International Award. This award was for demonstrating an outstanding commitment and contribution to working with international students, relevant employers and promoting internationalisation.

Dr Paul Redmond, Head of Careers and Employability, said "This is a fantastic achievement for the team and a great recognition of the many innovative and forward-thinking initiatives that we are currently engaged in at the University. We set out to be the best careers service in the country and, while we are not resting on our laurels, these awards suggest we're on the right track".

Employability for graduates from the University of Liverpool has been good, with over 90% of our graduates in employment or further study six months after graduation (Destination of Leavers from Higher Education Survey 2006/07). Of the international qualifiers, 97% of those in full time employment are working in a graduate level job. In addition, our graduate starting salaries are the highest in the north west of England, according to The Sunday Times University Guide 2008.

Employers regularly come to the University to talk about the opportunities they offer to University of Liverpool students and graduates. Some of the many companies who visit are Rolls Royce, KPMG, Corus, Toyota, Procter & Gamble, Atkins Global, PricewaterhouseCoopers, Arup, Ernst & Young, Deloitte and Airbus.

We also hold key employer events throughout the year to highlight graduate recruitment in our general career fair and 'Limelight' events when we focus on a particular sector, such as Engineering, Law, IT, Earth and Ocean Sciences and part-time jobs.

To ensure that programmes of study offered meet the needs of the commercial sector the majority of departments have strong relationships with industry. The nature of these links will vary. There is also a strong focus on networking and links with alumni. Many courses at the University will also include guest lecturers and students are taught by a mix of methods which in departments such as Engineering and the Management School will include case studies and working on real life projects.

Working while you Study

International students are legally allowed to work for up to 20 hours per week during term time. However, the University recommends that students work a maximum of 15 hours per week to ensure that your studies are not affected. During University vacations you are allowed to work full-time.

How much can I earn?

The current minimum wage in the UK for people aged 18-21 is £4.77 per hour, with people aged 22 or over being paid £5.73 per hour. The following calculations give an indication of how much you could potentially earn during term time and during university vacations.

During term time

Weekly income for an 18 year old working 15 hours per week for minimum wage:

$$£4.77 \times 15 = £71.55$$

Weekly income for a 22 year old working 15 hours per week for minimum wage:

$$£5.73 \times 15 = £85.95$$

During agreed vacation time

Weekly income for an 18 year old working full time (35 hours per week) for minimum wage:

$$£4.77 \times 35 = £166.95$$

Weekly income for a 22 year old working 35 hours per week for minimum wage:

$$£5.73 \times 35 = £200.55$$

It is important to be aware that any earnings you make in the UK through part-time jobs will supplement your living costs, but cannot be relied on as a source of financial support. You will need to prove that you have all tuition fees and living costs in your bank account before you apply for your visa, and this is especially true now under the new immigration rules. Employment in the UK as a student is mainly for experience and the opportunity to be involved with UK society.

Jobs and events

The University of Liverpool has its own 'Student Development Team' on campus to help students find part-time and voluntary work. This team manages the 'Jobs and Events' website which advertises part-time jobs available for students both on and off the University campus. To find out more about 'Jobs and Events' please see the website: www.liv.ac.uk/careers/jobs

International Student Ambassadors

Every year the International Office recruits around 20 students to work as Ambassadors. Ambassadors work alongside the International Recruitment and Relations Team to help provide advice and information to prospective international students. Ambassadors are given an opportunity to get involved in all kinds of interesting projects, including enquiry handling, welcome events, representing the University at exhibitions and events, and providing services for offer holders.

Working in the UK after you Graduate

Tier 1 (Post-Study Work)

All international students who successfully complete their UK undergraduate or postgraduate degree courses are able to apply to stay in the UK for two years and work full-time. Most types of work can be undertaken once you have this visa. This scheme replaces the International Graduate Scheme. It is a points based scheme and in order to obtain the visa you must fulfil certain requirements.

For more information on the Post-Study Work scheme please consult the International Support Team website at www.liv.ac.uk/studentsupport/ist/poststudywork.htm

Pramodh Heffiarachchi
Sri Lanka

“With international students now able to work in the UK for two years after graduation, it is really important to use the Careers Service to help understand what UK employers are looking for. The workshops, visits by employers and opportunities to gain work experience have really helped me to make important decisions about my future.”

Support and Facilities

Alongside the services mentioned in this guide, there is an extremely well-established network of support and facilities available to our students.

Library and Computer Facilities

The University's libraries are open 24 hours on weekdays during term time and throughout the academic year.

You can also access the University's centralised IT network, and the software it provides, 24/7, either at home or via computers all around the campus.

Accommodation

If you're leaving home for the first time, don't worry, the Accommodation Office Team will make sure you have everything you need to feel right at home. You can choose from various Halls of Residence on three separate sites – on campus or nearby.

We guarantee to provide single international students with accommodation provided that they have applied online through the Accommodation website by 31st July 2010.

Sport Liverpool

One of the great things about going to university is the chance to take up new interests. Sports and leisure activities are a good example.

University sports facilities include:

- The Sports and Fitness Centre, which houses a 33-metre swimming pool, two sports halls, four squash courts and a dance studio
- 10 senior football pitches, four rugby union, one rugby league, and one lacrosse pitch
- Two floodlit sand-dressed full-size all-weather artificial hockey/football pitches
- A dedicated state of the art floodlit rugby training area
- Four hard surface tennis courts
- Two netball courts
- An artificial cricket wicket available for hire throughout the year.

To find out more see our Undergraduate Prospectus 2010 or visit the website www.liv.ac.uk/sports

Liverpool Guild of Students

Our student union- the Guild- is student-led and every student at the University of Liverpool is a member. We encourage you to participate in a host of activities that will develop useful skills for your future career as well as having a good time. We offer advice should things get tough, social events throughout the year, and a space for you to simply hang out and discuss your studies.

Liverpool Alumni Community

When you join the University of Liverpool you become part of the University community and this connection lasts well beyond your graduation. You will be part of an international network of Liverpool alumni (graduates) with contacts all over the world! The University keeps in touch with all its international alumni in various ways.

International Alumni Associations

There are Liverpool Alumni Associations in various countries including Canada, China, Hong Kong, Sri Lanka and Thailand. The Associations organise social and networking events to give alumni the chance to meet and share their memories of Liverpool. Have a look at the Alumni website www.liv.ac.uk/alumni to see some photos of recent events and find out what may be going on in your country.

Online Alumni Community

Our graduates can now keep in touch and find friends online using our Online Alumni Community facilities at our Alumni website. www.liv.ac.uk/alumni

International Alumni Ambassadors

Our new International Alumni Ambassador scheme is designed to give graduates and prospective students a local point of contact. The Ambassadors may also be able to offer you, as a new undergraduate student, some advice on studying in Liverpool. See the Alumni website for contact details of your nearest Ambassador.

Representatives Overseas

University of Liverpool Representatives in Your Country

The University of Liverpool works with trusted representatives in a number of countries. We work closely with each representative office to ensure that staff are fully trained and able to give the best possible service to you. Our representatives can help you with your online UCAS form and give you practical advice on preparing to come to the UK to study.
