More details about our fees
- Typical offer: foundation degree, higher national diploma or equivalent in a finance-related subject

If you have a higher national diploma, foundation degree or equivalent qualification in a finance-related subject, you may enter the final year of the BA (Hons) Business Finance to convert your qualification into an honours degree.

This course combines the best of both worlds – you gain general management expertise as well as invaluable knowledge of accounting and finance. It is aimed specifically at developing financial management skills within a wider business context.

Modules

You will study

- Advanced Financial Accounting
- Business Research and Project
- Corporate Finance
- Ethics, Governance & Accountability
- Strategic Management

Modules offered may vary.

What you study

This year builds upon the knowledge you have already gained in your previous studies. You will explore more advanced topics within the areas of business and finance, and there will be a greater emphasis upon critical thinking and your ability to plan and manage your own learning as an individual and as part of a group. You will also undertake a research project.

How you learn

Modules are taught via lectures, seminars, practical workshops and group work. Teaching staff also adopt a range of web-based technologies to deliver module and programme content, assess, provide feedback and communicate with students.

How you are assessed

The programme is assessed via a variety of methods including assignments, examinations, group work, presentations and live practical projects.

Career opportunities

Graduates from this programme will be well placed to find employment in a wide range of business, management and administrative jobs both in the UK and overseas.
